

BIOSPHERE POLITICS

A New Consciousness for a New Century

JEREMY RIFKIN

Crown Publishers, Inc.
New York

CONTENTS

Introduction	1
Part One: Enclosing the Global Commons
1. Securing the World	11
2. What Doth It Profit a Man . . . ?	17
3. The Harlot and the Machine	27
4. A Private Nature	38
5. Cows Devour People	49
6. Gathering Up the Waves	53
7. Riding on Thin Air	58
8. The Electronic Pulse of the Planet	62
9. A Price Tag on Genes	65
10. Environmental Shrapnel	71
11. Icarus and the Great Cataclysm	81

Part Two: Geopolitics and the Death of Nature

12. The Corporate State	95
13. Gunpowder and Global Reach	101
14. Armed to the Teeth	107
15. Everyone's a Soldier	114
16. The Politics of Geography	119
17. Geopolitical Games	127
18. Enclosure in a Nuclear Age	134
19. Gene Wars	145

Part Three: The Culture of Privacy

20. Personal Security and the Privatization of Life	153
21. Kids, Mirrors, and Lawns	162
22. Store-Bought and Machine-Made	167
23. Homo Consumptor	173
24. Descartes on Wheels	177

Part Four: Securing the Body Politic

25. The Flight from the Animal Shadow	187
26. Morals, Manners, and Menus	194
27. Exorcising the Beast	200

28. Disconnecting the Senses	206
29. Odoriferous Terrors	209
30. A Touchless Society	218
31. Oral and Visual Cultures	228
32. The Age of Simulation	236
Part Five: The Coming of the Biospheric Age
33. Mechanistic Versus Therapeutic Consciousness	251
34. Geosphere to Biosphere	258
35. Planetary Rhythms	264
36. Reclaiming the Ground of Being	274
37. Accounting for the Earth	282
38. Biosphere Politics	286
39. Multinational Machinations	293
40. Disarming the Earth	299
41. Opening Up the Global Commons	309
42. The Third Stage of Human Consciousness	319
Notes	327
Bibliography	361
Index	377